

PROFESSOR OF VIOLIN

Candidate Information Pack

Closing date for applications:
Friday 27 May

(We reserve the right to close this vacancy early should a suitable candidate be found.)

A welcome from the Headmaster

Thank you for your interest in this role. I hope that this document tells you everything you need to know about working at our very special school - most importantly, whether it is the place for you.

The Yehudi Menuhin School is set in gorgeous grounds and we strive to promote a collegiate working environment with a strong sense of community. Staff and pupils are on first name terms, and all staff are encouraged to take an active part in the broader life of the school. Being a music school, we hope that everyone who works here has an appreciation and respect for the interests and creativity of our pupils, but we do not expect all staff to be musicians themselves (though over the years many have taken up an instrument as a result of working here!)

We are committed to the wellbeing of all our community, and strive to promote a healthy sense of balance in our pupils and staff. Ongoing professional development is very important to us, and all new staff are given an induction and the training necessary to fulfil their duties.

YMS is an exceptional place - I hope you will join us.

Ben Gudgeon Headmaster

The Yehudi Menuhin School

Founded in 1963 by the world-renowned violinist and educator Yehudi Menuhin, the School provides a place for musically gifted children from around the world to develop their talents to the highest level within a stimulating academic environment. It was accorded the status of Centre for Excellence in the Performing Arts in 1973 and has a global reputation as one of the world's leading music schools.

Today's school provides a holistic education for around 80 exceptional pupils aged from 11 to 19, with specialist tuition on the stringed instruments, piano and classical guitar. Pupils split their time between their academic and musical studies and are given many opportunities to perform in front of an audience. Concerts take place regularly in The Menuhin Hall, but also in local state schools, care homes and churches, carrying on Menuhin's belief in the importance of giving back to the community.

Pupils are admitted based on talent, potential and passion for music, not on their ability to pay the fees. Today, around 90% of pupils require some level of financial assistance to attend YMS. The School is one of nine specialist UK schools that are supported by the Department for Education's Music and Dance Scheme.

YMS Alumni include renowned international soloists such as Nigel Kennedy, Nicola Benedetti CBE, Tasmin Little OBE, Alina Ibragimova, Valeriy Sokolov, Kathryn Stott and Melvyn Tan. Many other alumni are shaping the global cultural landscape through teaching at leading conservatoires and performing with world-class orchestras and chamber ensembles.

As the School approaches its 60th anniversary in 2023, YMS is developing exciting new programmes to reach a wider number of pupils, including a recently launched Virtual Menuhin School and other initiatives that will aim to introduce much younger children to the joys of classical music. In the meantime, September 2022 will see the opening of YMS's first international school, in Qingdao, China, bringing YMS's unique music education model to talented young musicians from around the Far East.

Purpose of the role:

The Yehudi Menuhin School is looking for a Professor of Violin to join a team of world-class musicians and educators working in a friendly, collaborative and collegiate atmosphere.

Acting as a passionate advocate for the instrument, the Professor of Violin will be expected to take an active role in the identification and recruitment of new pupils in order to help support the work of our existing teachers and develop the reputation of the School's violin department.

Each pupil at the School receives 2 hours of one-to-one Principal Study tuition per week, plus regular studio classes and additional supporting studies. It is expected that the Professor of Violin should be available to visit the School on a weekly basis to ensure regularity and consistency of contact time with the pupils, with face-to-face lessons being delivered on non-consecutive days so that students have sufficient opportunity to practise in between.

The Professor of Violin will be required to attend mandatory INSET days as indicated by the Head, assessments three times per year (once per term) and may also be asked to participate in Open Days, auditions and other activities intended to promote the School. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to contribute to the wider School curriculum, depending on availability, whether through chamber music coaching, performances with YMS staff and visiting artists, outreach activities, workshops and seminars, or other creative initiatives. It might also be that support for the Virtual Menuhin School, our online learning resource for young pupils based overseas, is required.

Professors work under the supervision and direction of the Director of Music.

NB: The Yehudi Menuhin School will soon be advertising for a full-time Deputy Director of Music (Head of Chamber Music and Supporting Studies). Applicants are invited to explore the possibility of incorporating this professorship as part of a larger role within the school.

Key points about the role:

Contract type & Salary:

This is a permanent, salaried position, paid as a percentage of a full-time equivalent of £43,470 per annum, depending on class size, plus additional pay for assessments and other ad hoc lessons.

Probation Period:

3 months

All members of staff are expected to commit to the wider life of this busy boarding school, including attendance at (or participation in) evening concerts as required.

Person specification

The successful candidate will be a musician (violinist) with the necessary skills to fulfil the responsibilities of this role and to command the respect of those studying and working in a world-renowned music school. A formal teaching qualification is not required, but a willingness to engage in continuous professional development as a teacher will be an expectation.

Candidates must:

- Demonstrate understanding and engagement of safeguarding and child welfare.
- have appropriate prior experience of teaching to a high level.
- be an outstanding musician and instrumentalist and have experience as a performer, with ongoing international activity (concert and/or educational) being highly desirable.
- be willing to assist the School in its desire to develop the reputation of the violin department, and to be committed and proactive in the recruitment of new pupils.
- be a team player who is respectful of other's needs or opinions, who is able to see the bigger picture and is willing to contribute positively and efficiently to a culture based on a collaboration.
- understand and be able to engage with the individual and specific musical and pastoral needs of highly gifted/talented pupils to bring out the best in them.

- be proactive, open-minded and creative in supporting our aims to continually develop the musical life of the School and the pupils' musical education.
- be a skilful communicator, both orally and in writing, who is able to deal sensitively with the pupils, their parents, the music teachers and other staff, thereby contributing towards a harmonious, forward-thinking department.
- have a passion for creative music making, to be able to speak and perform confidently in public, and to set professional standards to which the pupils can aspire.
- be able to work and remain calm under pressure, to have the stamina to work varying hours and the resilience to deal with setbacks.
- be comfortable working with a wide range of ages and ability - for example, from an 11 year-old full of potential, to an 18 year old preparing for an international competition.
- be understanding of the pressures and challenges which young performers face in a high-performance learning environment and to have the ability to support and engage with them through patience and empathy.
- be confident and proactive in proposing new ideas and initiatives to support the musical and pastoral development of the pupils.

Job Specification:

- To work as a Principal Professor of Violin, delivering one-to-one lessons, under the direction of the Director of Music.
- To assist, and liaise closely and regularly with, relevant colleagues regarding the musical needs and development of the pupils allocated under your supervision and care.
- To assist in preparing pupils for concerts, both inside and outside the School, and to attend student concerts when requested by the Director of Music, including occasional evenings and weekends.
- To actively identify and help recruit potential pupils to the School, and to participate in recruitment initiatives when requested by the Director of Music.
- To contribute towards regular reports for each pupil under their supervision.
- To attend parent-teacher meetings as required by the Head.
- To attend instrumental assessments each Term and to provide feedback to pupils when requested by the Director of Music.

PROFESSOR OF VIOLIN: CANDIDATE INFORMATION PACK

- To report any pastoral concerns through the appropriate channels and to place the wellbeing of the pupils as the main priority.
- To deliver chamber music coaching, and to collaborate, rehearse and perform alongside pupils and fellow staff members in chamber ensembles as directed by the Director of Music.
- To actively support the School's Outreach Officer in the creation and delivery of a successful outreach programme.
- To initiate and deliver additional educational workshops, classes and seminars as directed by the Director of Music, and, if required, to collaborate with the Marketing Manager in the filming or recording of such content for promotional purposes.
- To deliver consultation lessons to prospective pupils during the application process as directed by the Director of Music.
- To attend auditions as directed by the Director of Music.
- To deliver lessons for the Virtual Menuhin School and/or our Little Menuhin provision as directed by the Director of Music.
- To undertake all necessary administration required to fulfil the role and its duties, and to be a flexible, efficient, creative and proactive member of the School's community.
- To participate in professional development as required by the School, and to engage with an annual appraisal process.
- To attend all Music Staff and Full Staff Meetings, as well as all statutory training sessions at which attendance is required by the School's Headmaster.
- To assist the Head, Director of music and other staff in the supervision of the pupils. To undertake such other duties as the Head or the Director of Music may reasonably require.
