The Yehudi Menuhin School

The Yehudi Menuhin School was founded in 1963 thanks to the vision and determination of an extraordinary musician and world citizen, the celebrated violinist Yehudi Menuhin. A brilliant educator, he feared that the lack of specialist music provision for children at an early age would result in an irreversible decline in the provision of world-class instrumentalists.

Inspired by a visit to Moscow's Central School for Young Musicians, Menuhin set out to develop a specialist music school in the UK for extraordinarily gifted children. These boys and girls, aged between seven and nineteen, would come from all corners of the globe, regardless of their race, creed or parents' financial position. His vision was that the School would not only attract potentially the most outstanding performers of their generation in string instruments and piano, but that they would also become well-rounded and compassionate people as a result of the high quality academic activities and pastoral care provision. Menuhin was also passionate in his belief that the School should share its music with the local community.

In 1964 the School moved from London to its current location in Cobham, Surrey, and gradually expanded to include new teaching and boarding blocks. In 1973 the School was accorded special status as a 'Centre for Excellence for the Performing Arts' and was one of the first schools to receive support from the Department for Education's Music and Dance Scheme. January 2006 saw the opening of the 300-seat Menuhin Hall, greatly enhancing the performance opportunities for the pupils and allowing the development of a 'Celebrity Series', attracting musicians of international renown. In 2016, new Music Studios were opened, providing state-of-the-art teaching and practice facilities.

Starting with just 15 pupils in September 1963, the School has expanded significantly over the last five decades while remaining true to Menuhin's values and ethos, and currently hosts 86 boys and girls from 22 nationalities.

Working here

The School is currently open for all pupils and the majority of staff are working on-site. Home based working during lockdown is considered on a case-by-case basis for administrative staff. Flexible working arrangements can be discussed with the successful candidate.

The School is set in gorgeous grounds and we offer a friendly working environment with a strong sense of community. Staff and pupils are on first name terms and all staff are encouraged to take an active part in the broader life of the school.

Staff benefit from free lunches in term time, currently delivered in a COVID-safe way. There is also an on-site swimming pool which staff can access according to government COVID guidelines.

We place a high value on the ongoing professional development of all our staff, as well as the full induction and training of all new staff. We are committed to the wellbeing of all students and staff, and provide a 'no-smoking' environment.
